

Welcome to the Communication, Movement and Learning Lab, directed by Dr. Jenya Iuzzini-Seigel Associate Professor at Marquette University. Our lab is dedicated to advancing the diagnosis and treatment of children with complex communication disorders, with a particular emphasis on childhood apraxia of speech (CAS), dysarthria, and developmental language disorder. We believe in care of the whole child, considering the comprehensive needs of each child to promote optimal quality of life for children in these populations.
