

GREEN JOBS TOOLKIT

Provided by Campus Sustainability

Tips when looking for Environmental positions

- Define your background & interests
- Length of roles: Seasonal, Permanent, Graduate degree
- Contemplate work locations
- Have a resume highlighting skills
- Update cover letter each application
- Request references beforehand
- Use your network to help you find jobs
- Join LinkedIn communities
- Search job boards with keywords relating to interests & skills

CONSERVATION JOB BOARDS

- Texas A&M Natural Resources Job Board
- Conservation Job Board
- Nelson Institute for Environmental Studies - Environmental Job Board
- UW-Stevens Point - Forestry Jobs Board
- Department of Natural Resources
- USAJOBS.gov
- The Nature Conservancy Job Board
- Ecological Society of America
- Society for Conservation Biology
- EcoJobs.com
- GreenJobSearch.org

GREEN JOBS CAN BE APPLIED TO ANY FIELD

- Engineering - Hydrologist
- Health Sciences - Toxicologist
- Finance & Economics - Sustainable Investor
- Digital Media - Green Product Marketing
- Data Science - Environmental Data Analytics
- Business - Corporate Sustainability
- English - Science Writer
- Political Science - Environmental Policy

Next Step Considerations

- Apply for internships in your area of interest - build up your resume & skills
- Maintain active relationships with your network
- The environmental field is interdisciplinary, your interests & abilities can be applied to a variety of disciplines
- Explore Universities for graduate programs, reach out to professors